Thursday June 26

WOODBIDGE, N.J.--(BUSINESS WIRE)--Extensis Group LLC., New Jersey's largest Professional Employer Organization (PEO) Staffing Solution was recently featured in the Wall Street Journal. (<http://online.wsj.com/article/SB121199448885726503.html>) Extensis has years of experience recruiting, screening and training new employees for our clients, now our process and results have been featured by this leading business publication.

Extensis provides cost effective recruiting services and can manage the end to end hiring process for its client's employees as part of their service to small to mid-sized businesses. This process can include: job ad posting, in house recruiting, resume collection and screening, background and drug checks, I-9 verification and new hire training. Extensis works with their clients to develop a customized program that meets their client specific needs and budget.

The company also enables their clients to cost-effectively outsource the management of human resources, employee benefits and payroll. As a result, their clients can focus on their core competencies and growing their business.

"By outlining and measuring our staffing process and measuring it's direct impact on the bottom line, it's easier than ever to demonstrate the benefits of an effective recruiting program," said Don Abernathy President of Extensis, "resulting in measurable Increases in Sales Productivity and Improved Employee Retention."

Extensis was founded ten years ago with the concept of providing PEO services to the small and midsized business community in the NJ-NY metropolitan area.
